

The Saying of the People of Tawhīd and Īmān

Versus the Saying of the People of Kufr, Shirk and Ilhād — 01

بسم الله والحمد لله والصلاة والسلام على رسول الله وبعد:

Note: Please read the series introduction first, available here:

<https://abuiyaad.com/a/darwinian-virology>

ON THE VIRUS AND ITS ALLEGED SUPERPOWER

The saying of the people of Tawhīd and Īmān is that colds and flus are in-built, pre-programmed biologically meaningful foreground repair programs triggered by numerous factors, internal and external, including seasonal stimuli and environmental conditions and influences.

Physiological waste inclusive of genetic material from cell debris is excreted thereby, through all its various routes: sputum, stool, urine, sweat, cough, sneeze, runny nose and so on and enervation is

'Kent variant has developed a super power' UK Covid warning issued as virus evolves

THE Kent mutation of the coronavirus has "developed a superpower" that allows the virus to "evade" the immune system.

By AURORA BOSOTTI

11:12, Tue, Feb 2, 2021 | UPDATED: 18:49, Tue, Feb 2, 2021

released from the body.

What is being expelled is dead, lifeless, inert material. This is a blessing from Allāh (عَزَّوَجَلَّ) and for the majority of healthy people, it is just some days of discomfort and a cleansing, a purification. For others, already burdened with disease, it can be the route for their appointed time, by Allāh’s decree.

As such, these symptoms are all biologically meaningful and purposeful and they point to Allāh as the true Healer and the Giver, Taker and Reviver of life.

All of this comes under the names of Allāh, al-Muḥyī and al-Mumīt and al-Shāfi. He is also described as Ṭabīb, and this also comes under the statement of Ibrāhīm (عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ):

وَإِذَا مَرَضْتُ فَهُوَ يَشْفِينِ

And when I am ill, it is He that cures Me” (26:80).

The body has been pre-programmed with in-built repair and healing mechanisms initiated by stimuli and triggers, and it is Allāh who is the Healer in reality, because He placed these inherent capabilities in the body.

Ibn al-Qayyim (رَحِمَهُ اللَّهُ) said:¹

What makes this clear is that sins (sayyi’āt, dhunūb) are diseases of the heart, just as fever and ailments are diseases of the body. The ill person when he recovers completely from his illness, his strength returns back to him, better than what it was before, as if he had never become weak at all. Thus, prior strength (in health) is at the level of righteous deeds, and illness is the at the level of sins, and health and well-being [thereafter] are at the level of repentance, these [stages] being like for like.

¹ Al-Wābil al-Ṣayyib (p. 25), I thank the brother who brought this to my attention, jazāhullāhu khayran.

As for the saying of the people of shirk, kufr and khidhlān, then it resembles the saying of their ancients and predecessors, those who held that spirits and demons jump from person to person via close proximity and cause disease, this being their superstitious belief in contagion.

The “pathogenic virus” is a modern-day technical replacement and revival for those spirits and demons that were feared by the misguided, superstitious ancients and predecessors.

HEALTH

Mutant UK variant now has ‘superpower’

by Emma Reynolds

3rd Feb 2021 4:59 AM

For the Darwinian evolutionary germ-theorist the “virus”—an evolutionary building block for life-forms—is framed as an invisible enemy competing with bacteria and human cells for survival and replication. It allegedly invades and hijacks the cells of animals and humans because biological life itself is imperfectly created—through the haphazardness of random, non-directed Darwinian evolution. This struggle, over long periods of time, leads to novelty and adaptation. However, danger is always lurking around as “viruses” continue to emerge through evolutionary pressures, with man always at risk. This is the doctrine that is driving events today.

Thus, man must correct the flaws which exist in his haphazard creation through Darwinian evolution by re-engineering, programming and “teaching” the body what it does not know—since it is absent a knowing, willing, wise Creator and is just a by-product of random, undirected processes. This is the thinking of the atheists, materialists, naturalists and disbelievers in general, and this is the angle they are coming from and out of which comes their viral disease causation ideas in this respect. This is a revilement of the rubūbiyyah of Allāh (عَزَّوَجَلَّ), a negation of Allāh being al-Shāfi and the Ṭabīb, and a poisoning of the mind.

Having a proper, sound understanding of Allāh’s creation—through His names and attributes—is part and parcel of affirmation of His rubūbiyyah.

False, inaccurate theories, pseudosciences, deceptions and lies in worldly sciences can be the source of mental and physical, social and economic subjugation in imperceptible ways.

Essentially what is happening is that the end-points of Allāh’s mercy, of these in-built detoxification and de-energation programs to revitalise the body, their end-products—debris, expelled, waste, morbid material²—are being taken by the disbelievers and turned into starting points of what feeds into their doctrines, of evolution, of mutation and selection and so on, to devise an alternative presentation of reality.

It is one that fits into their kufr and shirk in which they have stripped the creation from having a Creator.

Thus, we get the notion of the “virus” which invades, hijacks, and mutates in order to intelligently compete for survival, under so called “selection pressures”, similar to the “selfish gene” concept of that charlatan called Richard Dawkins.

² Different sequences of waste genetic fragments are picked up in samples and categorised into families such as influenza A and B, adenoviruses, coronaviruses, pneumoviruses and so on. Dead, inert genetic material expelled from the body is genetically sequenced and treated as a “disease causing virus” within the framework of germ theory and evolution. It is then placed into families through given nomenclatures. No proof exists whatsoever that an alleged “virus” is the cause of any disease with what meets the standards of the scientific method in proving cause and effect. Virology became a pseudoscience in the 1950s, after the viral causation of disease could not be proven in the decades earlier through other routes.

Fears new coronavirus strain has 'developed a superpower'

Tom Flanagan · News Reporter

Updated Tue, 2 February 2021, 11:14 pm · 3-min read

TRENDING

And thus, we are in constant evolutionary struggle against invisible enemies that can develop “superpowers”, that we must engage in “self-directed evolution” to eliminate the flaws in man’s creation, his vulnerability within the ongoing struggles and pressures of evolution.

For the Muwahhīd, these short-term, emergency foreground programs are in-built repair and healing mechanisms indicative of the rubūbiyyah (lordship) of Allāh (عَزَّوَجَلَّ) who is the Healer (al-Shāfi) and the knower of all diseases and cures and the one powerful over health and healing (al-Ṭabīb).³ For healthy people these programs are just some days of mild discomfort. They remove toxins, accumulated waste and morbid materials, and replace damaged or compromised mucosal linings in the respiratory tract.

What have been wrongly labelled as “viruses” historically speaking by the misguided germ theorists⁴ are in reality:

³ This is the meaning of “Ṭabīb” as explained by al-Bayḥaqī.

⁴ In the late 19th century and early 20th century there were disputes that took place about the causes of disease among the Europeans. Those who supported the germ theory, that external agents are the primary cause of disease, exclusive to other causes, such as Louis Pasteur and Robert Koch, they were dishonest people who committed fraud in their research and they were in search of fame and fortune. The true and genuine scientists such as Claude Bernard and Antione Bechamp gave the correct explanation of disease which is that “germs” are not the primary causative agents of disease, but they are a consequence of a disturbance in the body’s terrain, when there is imbalance, and tissue and cell death or damage has taken place. So they come in order to —communications messengers (like cell to cell SMS/email) and transport vehicles (like a courier/taxi) that can be involved in the execution of repair and normalisation programs, and —genetic fragments which are breakdown products of dead or damaged cells and their organelles. They are prepared for elimination through various routes, after having been enclosed in fat, with lipid bilayers, to isolate and seal them off. They are then engulfed by elements of the “immune network” such as phagocytes for transportation out of the system.

Ordinarily speaking, latent background programs that take care of this internal clean-up and clearance process would be running efficiently and a healthy person would not know.

However, the lower the vitality of the person—with low nutritional status being one of the factors⁵—the more severe the symptoms of the emergency programs when the body executes them by way of necessity. As the program is running its course in the foreground, the body will expel what needs expelling of toxins, morbid and waste materials, inclusive of these communications and transport messengers that are used up in the process. Within the sum of all of this material is a large hotch-potch of genetic debris, completely dead, inert. Genetic fragments are picked up and wrongly interpreted as external, disease-causing viruses.

There is no such thing as a whole, intact “infectious virus” present in the air or in any sample and its existence is break down and recycle this material for re-use or expulsion from the body. The disease state came first, and the bacteria or so-called “virus”, which are already in the body, play their role in returning the body back to normal. The activities of bacteria and so-called “viruses” are in response to disease, they are not the root cause of it.

⁵ Deficiencies in vitamins such as vitamin D and vitamin C are factors, and minerals such as Zinc and Selenium are tied to symptoms such as loss of taste and smell and inability to run the latent background programs efficiently.

demonstrated only through sleight of hand tricks in the laboratory using indirect methods. Direct detection—and thus isolation, purification, proper characterisation and scientifically valid proof of disease causation of a virus—is not possible.⁶

No government, no institution, no university, or laboratory anywhere in the world has a single millilitre vial of completely purified, whole, intact, “infectious” virus, absent all other materials and contaminants. If they do, I will be happy to put it in a glass and drink it all, or rub it in my mouth, nose and eyes.

It may be hard for people to accept that they have had the wool pulled over their eyes, but if they just pause and think upon the saying of Shaykh al-Islām Muḥammad bin ‘Abd al-Wahhāb (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ) with respect to Tawhīd and other foundations of religion:

ثُمَّ بَعْدَ هَذَا غَلِطَ فِيهَا كَثِيرٌ مِّنْ أَذْكِيَاءِ الْعَالَمِ وَعُقَلَاءِ بَنِي آدَمَ إِلَّا أَقَلَّ الْقَلِيلِ

Then after this, many of the shrewd people of the world and the intelligent ones among the offspring of Ādam, excepting a very few, erred with respect to them.

⁶ As is explicitly stated in textbooks of virology. “Viruses occur universally, but they can only be detected indirectly.” Introduction to Modern Virology.

Dimmock, Easton and Leppard, 6th edition (Blackwell Publishing, 2007), p. 3. When samples are taken from the nose, throat or lungs of people, it is never a whole virus which is being detected, but very small fragments of broken down genetic material. The true origin of this material is never known, however it is ascribed to a “virus”. No intact, whole virus is ever detected at any stage, let alone purified in the proper sense of the word. As such, the claim that a “virus” is the root cause of disease has never been proven through scientifically valid experiments. There is trickery and deception in the techniques and procedures used to make these claims about viruses, and this has been explained in detail elsewhere.

So when it is the case that learned, shrewd people can err in the matter of Tawhīd, as has happened in history, among many of the intelligent people of Kalām and the Ṣūfiyyah and others, despite it being rooted in fiṭrah, and ‘aql and despite it being as clear as daylight in revelation, how can a person deny that the disbelievers can likewise be utterly misguided as it relates to the matter of Allāh’s Rubūbiyyah, His creation, its workings, its true meanings, purposes and significance?

Especially given the fact that they have stripped the creation from having a Creator, from it being tied to the names, attributes and actions of the Creator, and they blindly reconstruct their knowledge and understanding of Allāh’s creation upon the principles of their shirk and kufr in which they received inspiration from Iblīs.

The sayings published in the newspapers of the disbelievers and polytheists—and which may be blindly-followed and repeated by others—that the, “Kent variant has developed a super power” and that the “virus evolves” and intelligently “evades” the immune system and more of this type of speech, all of this is founded upon their shirk and kufr and upon stripping the creation from having a Creator.

Any Muslim who subscribes to these statements, these ideas, accommodates them and believes them and thinks that the disbelievers are upon something and that they are upon ḥaqq and ṣīdq (truth and honesty) in what they are saying, then he is mistaken and has been deceived by the machinations of Iblīs and his hosts among the people of disbelief.

The disbelievers—as they roll out the mRNA injection which primes the immune system for hyper-reaction at some point in the future—are spreading lies and fabrications of a new deadly “superpower” virus built upon their false, superstitious evolutionary, viral causation doctrine to instill fear and in order to pursue their agendas.

A quote from the Express article of 2 February 2021:

Sky News correspondent Thomas Moore said: “It’s developed a superpower.”

“Superpower mutants” will be claimed to be the cause of the next round of engineered disease and death. They can repeat the same cycle of deception over and over again. Once the initial lie is bought, there is no end to the lies that follow.

Any person who believes this lie that completely and utterly lifeless, dead, inert pieces of broken down genetic fragments expelled by the body have somehow developed “superpowers” needs serious help, a serious wake up call. Those who need this wake up call the most are Muslim physicians because they hold considerable sway over populations.

As for the disease and death taking place, it is explained by:

a) The destructive lockdown measures themselves and shutting down of essential health care services leading to premature deaths of the chronically ill and elderly.

b) Recategorisation and rebranding of existing, known diseases and symptoms including the seasonal flu and the usual annual death burden into “COVID-19” through the fraudulent PCR “test”. This massively inflates the number of deaths allegedly caused by the “virus” and is also used to turn healthy, disease and symptom-free people into “cases”, which in turn drives fear propaganda and psychological warfare. They claim that in 2020, the “flu” (and its alleged virus) almost disappeared all across the world. This is only believed by the naive and ignorant. Rather, the “flu” has been renamed as “COVID-19” as have many other disease conditions and symptoms.

c) Sick people being killed (murdered and euthanised) through maltreatment, do not resuscitate (DNR) notices slapped on the elderly and those considered unfit, prematurely putting people on intubation/ventilation, giving wrong medication or withholding of appropriate medication and so on.

And from this point onwards, we must also add:

d) The administration of mRNA gene therapy via injection to prime the “immune system” for hyper-reactivity. It is already killing many people in care homes and beyond—[these deaths are being deceptively marked as “COVID-19” deaths]—while setting many healthy people up for severe disease at some point in the future.⁷ This occurs by a skewing of the “immune system” after sensitizing it to proteins that are part of the complex

⁷ This is what is reported in the literature with respect to these types of vaccines that have been tried in the past, they lead to what is called “antibody dependent enhancement” and bring about severe disease and death in both animal and human experiments. Refer to: “Informed consent disclosure to vaccine trial subjects of risk of COVID-19 vaccines worsening clinical disease” at <https://pubmed.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/33113270/> and also: “A perspective on potential antibody dependent enhancement of SARS-CoV-2” at <https://doi.org/10.1038/s41586-020-2538-8> and also: “The potential for antibody-dependent enhancement of SARS-CoV-2 infection” at <https://doi.org/10.1017/cts.2020.39> and “Immunization with SARS Coronavirus Vaccines Leads to Pulmonary Immunopathology on Challenge with the SARS Virus” at <https://doi.org/10.1371/journal.pone.0035421> and “Early Death after Feline Infectious Peritonitis Virus Challenge” at <https://jvi.asm.org/content/64/3/1407>. These and other papers indicate that the current vaccine rollout is but a large-scale human experiment, essentially treating people as guinea pigs.

communications and cellular entry, exit and fusion systems running in the body.

And from Allāh is aid sought.

We finish by repeating what we stated in the article from Ibn al-Qayyim on sneezing:⁸

The alleged virus has been animated and given qualities and properties, [rather, superpowers], on the basis of which people are led to exaggeration, fear and superstition.

All of this is very different from the conception that the body has been created upon balance, homeostasis, equilibrium and violations in diet, habits and lifestyle can lead to the execution of short-term emergency programs, and that the root causes of disease return back fundamentally to:⁹

- deficiency in essential nutrients, vitamins, minerals,
- toxicity from the environment,
- accumulation of excess morbid and waste materials,
- enervation.

So when that happens, the foreground programs are triggered as a corrective, normalisation program and there are seasonal stimuli, like the winter or sudden cold weather, that can act as triggers. For healthy people this is some days of mild discomfort and for others, the passing of symptoms can be eased by addressing any nutritional deficiencies such as vitamins C and D, Zinc, Selenium and others which lead to better modulation of the repair program and to easing—not hindering or blocking—of the symptoms, which are pre-programmed mechanisms.

⁸ “Ibn al-Qayyim on Sneezing Between the Superstition of Jāhiliyyah and the Guidance of the Sharī‘ah” at <https://abuiyaad.com/a/ibn-al-qayyim-sneezing>

⁹ This is purely in terms of material causes and effects, even though the original, underlying foundation of diseases and ailments are sins and disobedience.

And for the elderly, chronically sick or immune damaged people, it might top them over the edge, despite all reasonable interventions.

Yet, in all of this, there is no notion or concept of any “virus”, it is not even needed, and there does not remain any ground for superstition to arise and settle in the hearts, because a “virus” is totally out of the picture. It is not needed to explain anything because there is zero proof for the viral causation theory of disease.¹⁰

All that has happened is that genetic fragments which are cellular breakdown products have been wrongly labelled as “viruses” and various microvesicles coming in and out of cells have been confused for “viruses” and assumed to be disease-causing agents without a shred of valid scientific evidence. The mistake is similar to claiming that firemen are the cause of the fire because they are routinely observed coming in and out of burning buildings. While they are certainly present and on the scene, they are not the root cause of the fire.

Further, even in cases where people have been immune damaged due to medication, prior vaccination or other causes, they can become victims of an overreactive, hyper immune response. These types of situations warrant particular courses of emergency action [for the preservation of life] about which there would not be much disagreement. However, it would still be a matter of interpretation of events. In these scenarios, there is still no need for invoking any alleged, external disease causing “virus” as the root cause of disease.

The label of “virus” is a misnomer, it is a mistake that was made historically by misguided germ theorists trying to validate their theories of disease causation, in which they failed miserably, until sleight of hand techniques were used in the 1950s to create the illusion of viral disease causation, and then exaggerating in that to exclude or downplay the true foundational causes of disease.

¹⁰ No evidence exists whatsoever that colds and flus are “contagious”—there is zero scientific proof for this claim and this claim was already falsified over a hundred years ago, with genuine, scientifically valid experiments conducted by the US navy, straight after the First World War.

The final word, once again, must go to Shaykh Ḥāfiẓ al-Ḥakamī (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ) for there are no words more appropriate than these:

The intent is that the negation of contagion is absolute, it is upon its totality and within it is singling out Allāh (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى) with full disposal [of all affairs] in His creation... And within that lies strengthening of the heart of the believers, aiding of them with the strength of reliance and soundness of certainty, and proof for them against the polytheists and all of the stubborn opposers.¹¹

Abu ‘Iyaad

21 Jumādā al-Ākhirah 1442 / 3 February 2021—v.1.05

¹¹ In Ma‘ārij al-Qubūl.